

NEPAL · MARCH 6 TO 19, 2027 · JOIN A FILM CREW

Beyond Everest.

The 5 Faces of Nepal.

A hosted expedition with Dirk Collins and a Planet 5 film crew. Everest at first light, the coffee harvest with the grandson of Tenzing Norgay, the Langtang on foot, the lake at Pokhara and the tigers of Bardia.

THE INVITATION

Five faces. One film.

You are invited.

Everest is the face of Nepal the world knows. Beyond it are four more: the hill farms where the coffee grows, the valley trails, the lake beneath the Annapurnas, and the grasslands where Nepal keeps its tigers. This March a Planet 5 film crew sets out to document all five for Beyond Everest, the story of the coffee grown below the mountain by Tenzing Norgay's grandson and the country that grows it.

Dirk Collins, expedition and aerial producer on the Disney and National Geographic film Everest: The Other Side, hosts the journey. You travel with the crew from the first evening to the last, you are part of the film, and you go home with professional photography and edited footage of your own expedition. Every door on the route is opened in advance by relationships built over thirty years.

> The difference between visiting a place and being part of its story.

STONE
Everest at first light

SOIL
The coffee harvest

BREATH
The Langtang on foot

WATER
The lake at Pokhara

GRASS
The tigers of Bardia

THE ROUTE

The Himalaya, on the map.

1. Kathmandu MAR 6
   Arrival, a helicopter up to The Terraces high above the valley, and a welcome dinner with your hosts.

2. Everest at dawn MAR 7, FIRST LIGHT
   East along the Himalaya by helicopter at first light. The Everest overflight, then lunch at Hotel Everest View at 12,730 feet, with Everest filling the window.

3. Everest Coffee Farm MAR 7 TO 8
   Tashi Tenzing's family farm in the Nuwakot hills, in harvest: the terraces, the wet mill, the drying floor, Tashi's kitchen, and a visit to one of the Nepal Green Tara Foundation schools.

4. The Langtang MAR 9 TO 12
   By helicopter from the farm into the lower Langtang, between 6,000 and 10,000 feet. Four days on foot with a full mobile camp, lakes, meadows and a lakeside final camp.

5. Pokhara MAR 13 TO 14
   West past Manaslu and the Annapurnas by helicopter. Two nights in a lodge above the lake, the range catching the sunrise.

6. Bardia MAR 15 TO 17
   Three nights on the edge of Bardia National Park in the far western Terai: tiger, wild elephant, one-horned rhino and river dolphin, with a fraction of Chitwan's visitors.

7. Back to Kathmandu MAR 18 TO 19
   Back to Kathmandu for a farewell dinner and the last night at Dwarika's, built from the carved windows of old Newar houses. Departures on the morning of March 19.

ACT ONE · STONE · DAY 2

The Mountain. Everest at first light.

At first light you lift off from The Terraces and fly east along the Himalaya. The Everest overflight, then lunch at Hotel Everest View at 12,730 feet, with Everest filling the window.

By mid-afternoon you are standing in the coffee.

On film: the range coming up gold from the helicopter, and the first cup of the journey with Everest in the window.

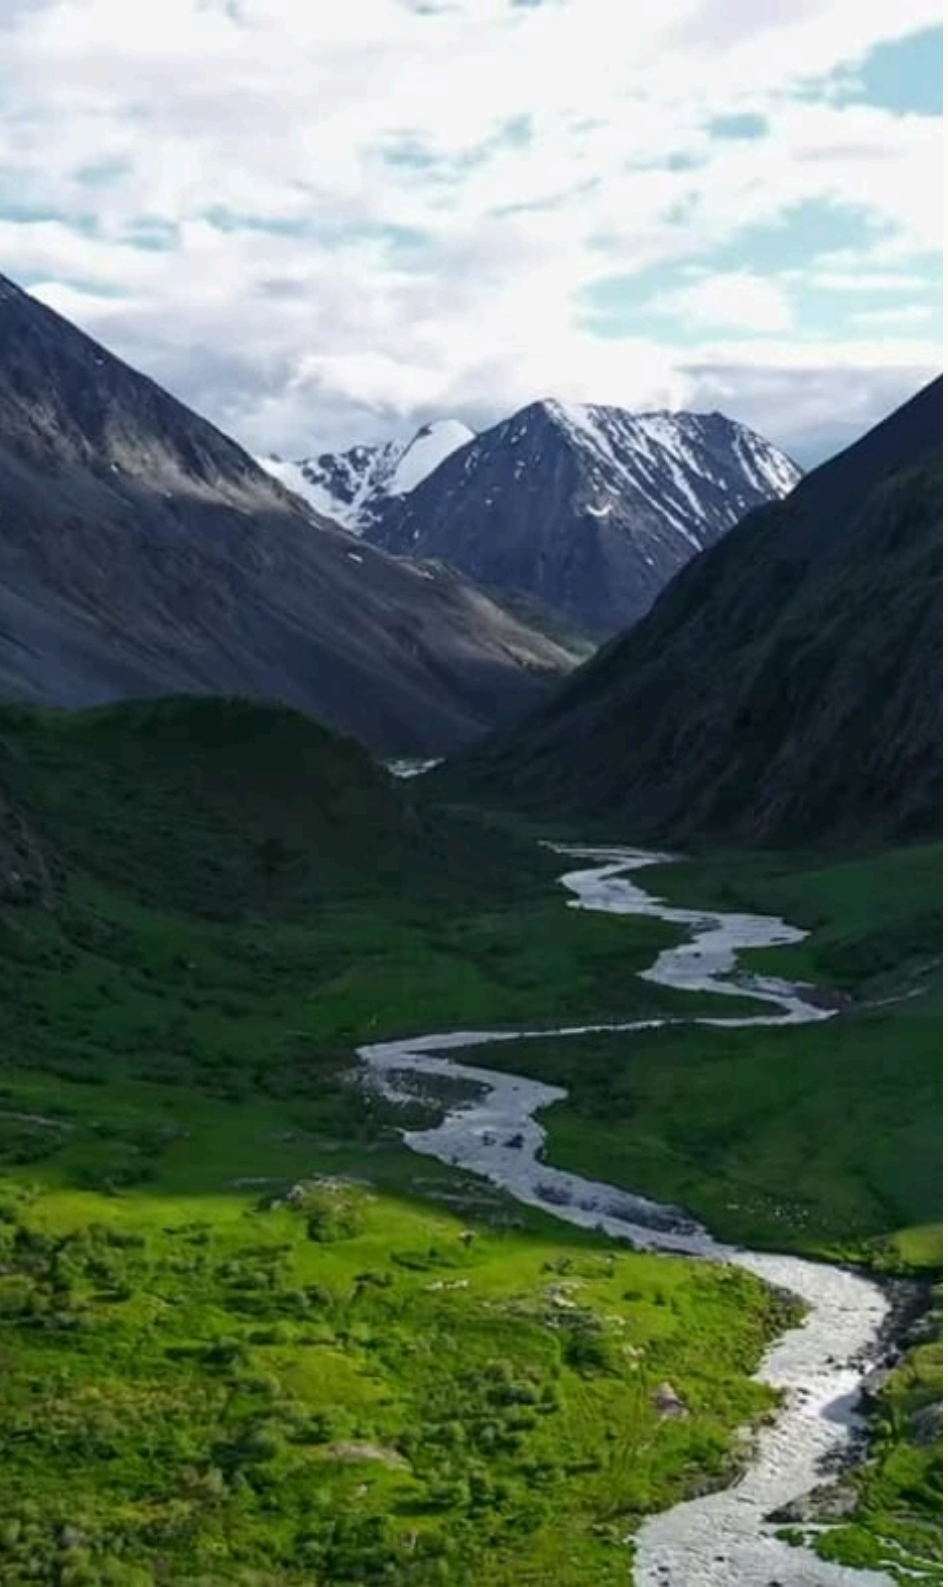

ACT TWO · SOIL · DAYS 2 AND 3

The Farm. The Everest Coffee Farm.

Tashi Tenzing is the grandson of Tenzing Norgay, who with Sir Edmund Hillary made the first ascent of Everest in 1953. A three-time Everest summiteer himself, Tashi hosts you at the Everest Coffee Farm in Nuwakot, and you arrive in harvest. A full day in it: picking cherry on the terraces with the farm team, the wet mill running, the drying floor laid out in the sun, and a visit to one of the schools of the Nepal Green Tara Foundation, which he and his wife Bandi Nima Sherpa founded to fight poverty through education. In the evening Tashi cooks for his guests, food from the farm, and talks you through every dish.

Farms at 4,600 to 6,900 feet. Himalayan microclimates. Soil and altitude that rival the best single origins on earth, and a wider world that is only beginning to notice. The coffee is the product. The education is the purpose. Tashi built both.

On film: the pickers on the terraces, cherry coming off the trees, hands sorting on the drying floor, Tashi on his grandfather, Tashi's kitchen as he cooks what the farm grows, and a cup poured by the people who grew it.

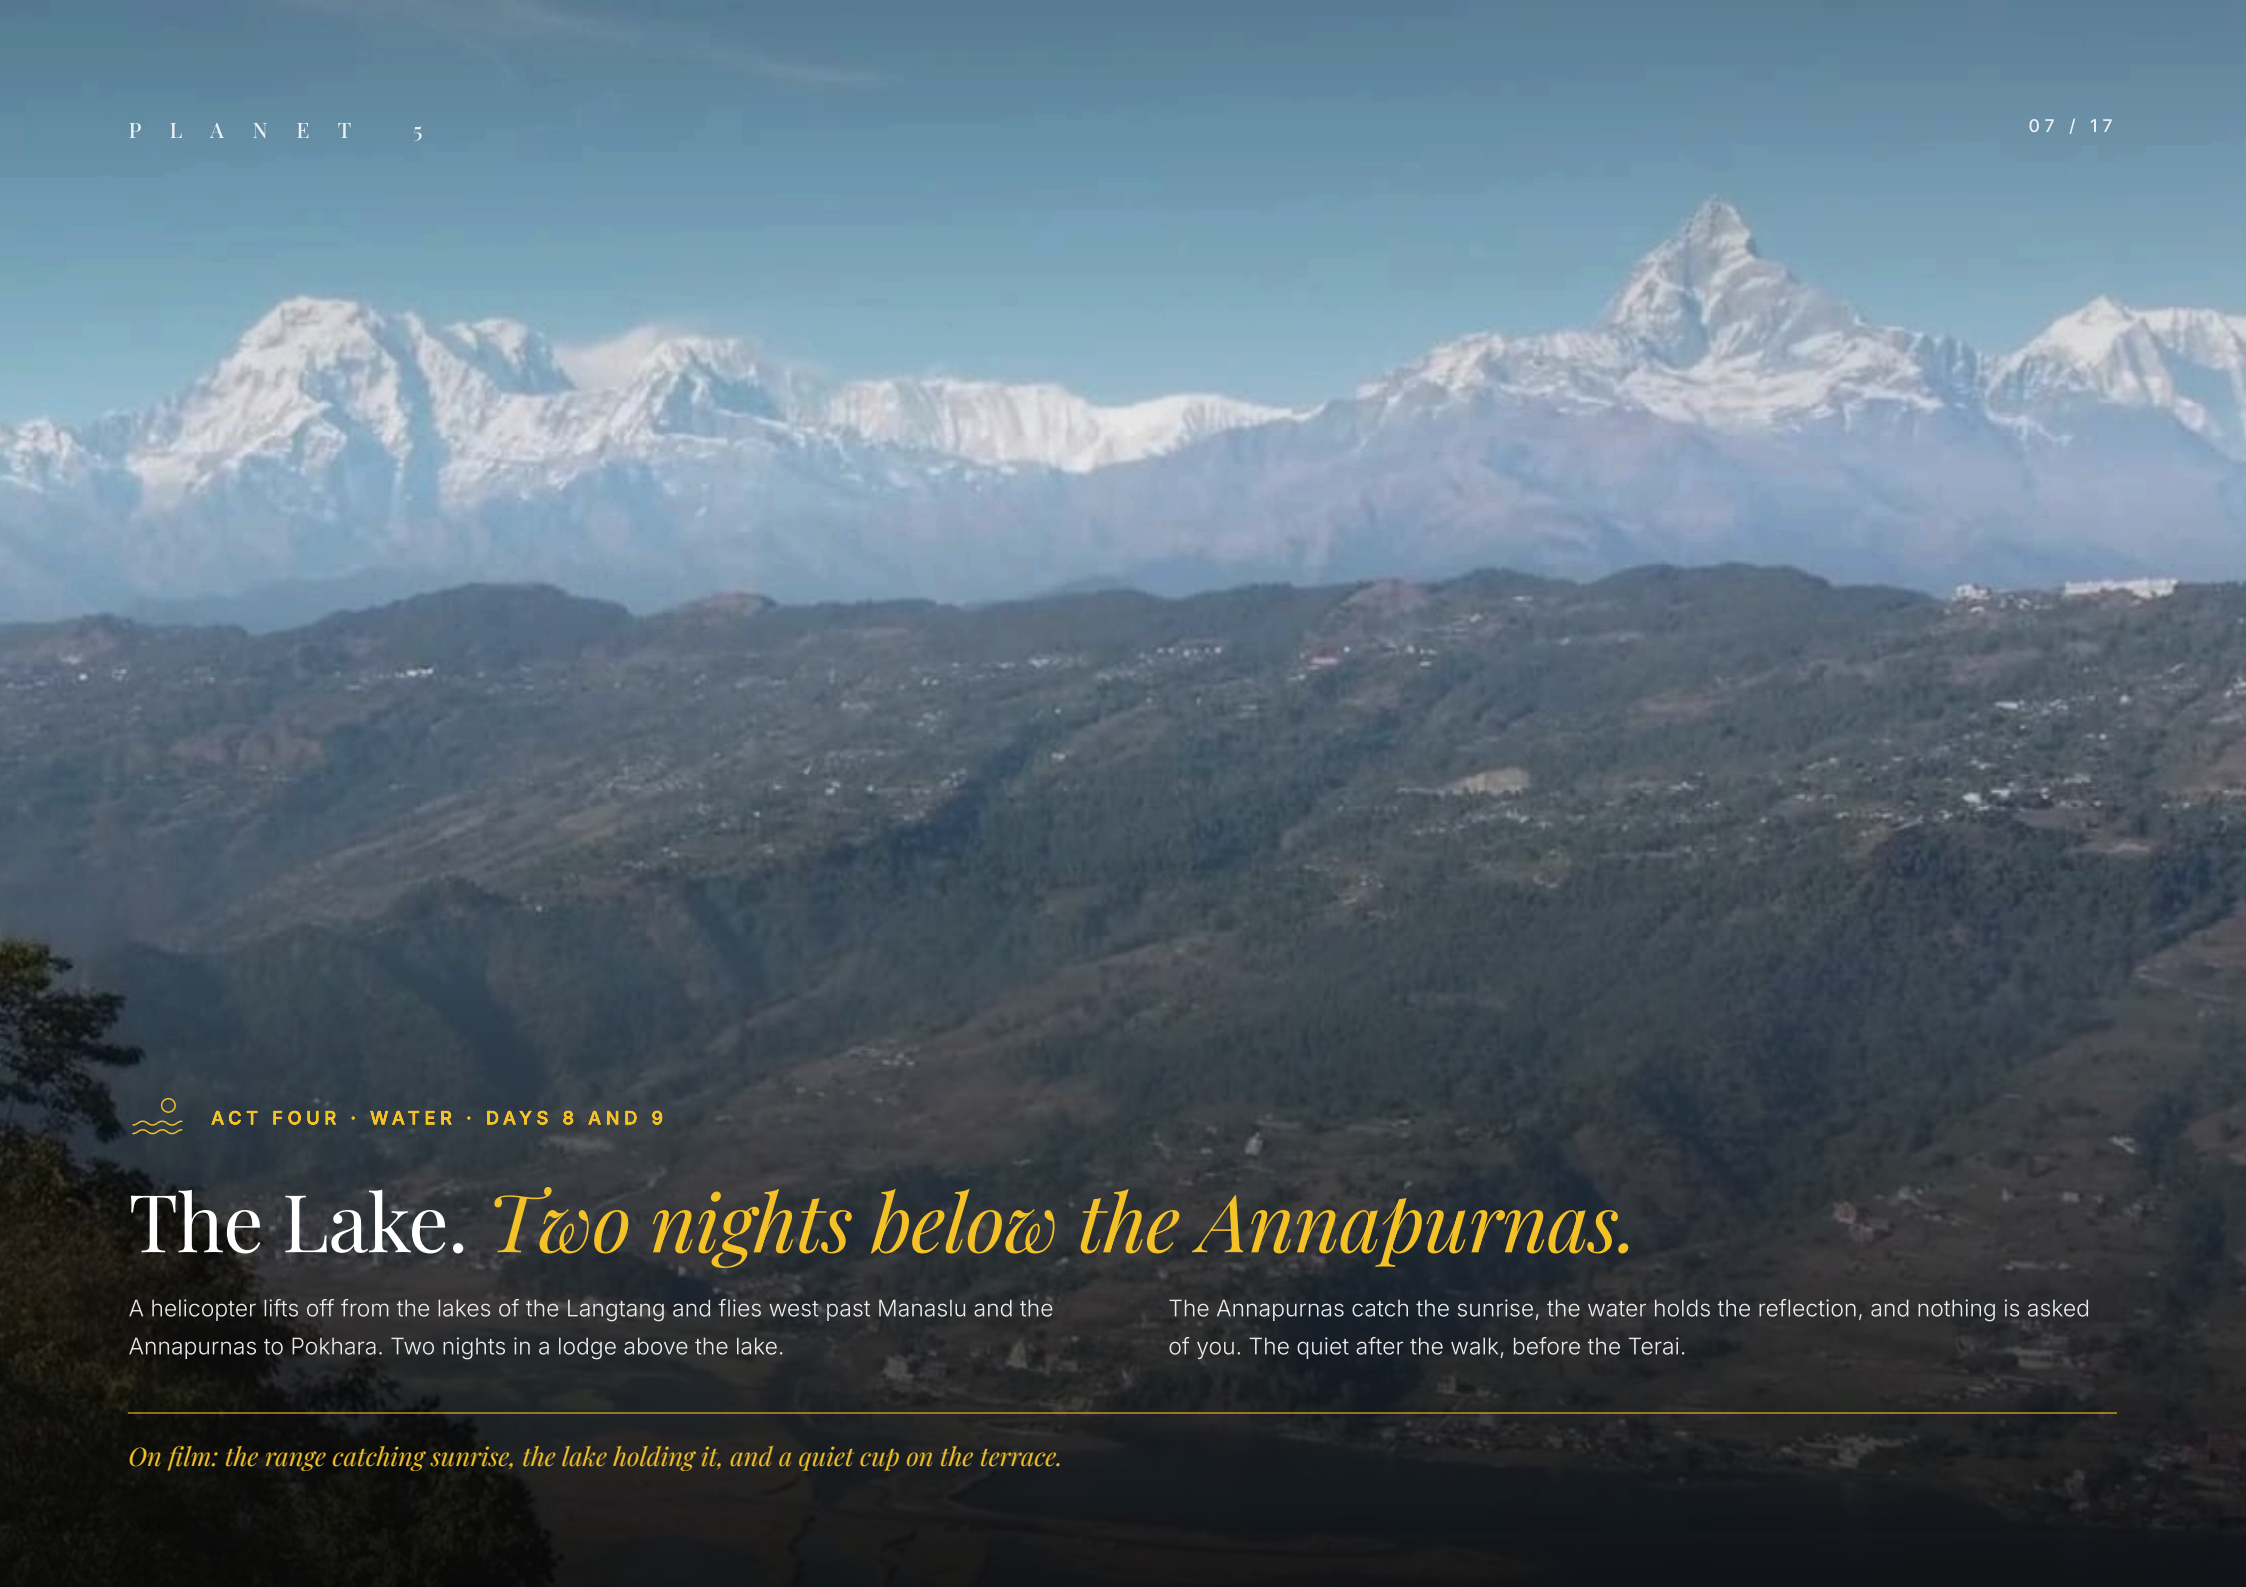

ACT THREE · BREATH · DAYS 4 TO 7

The Walk. Four days on foot in the Langtang.

A helicopter lifts you from the coffee terraces into the lower Langtang, and the walking begins between 6,000 and 10,000 feet, among the lakes and the forest below the peaks. Four days on foot and four nights under canvas, with a mobile camp that sets its own standard: expedition tents, separate shower and toilet facilities, a full expedition chef, and total porterage. You carry a day pack. Lakes, meadows, a landscape shaped by tectonic collision, and a lakeside final camp. The world below disappears into cloud.

On film: the chef at the stove before dawn, porters served first, and coffee in cold air by the lake.

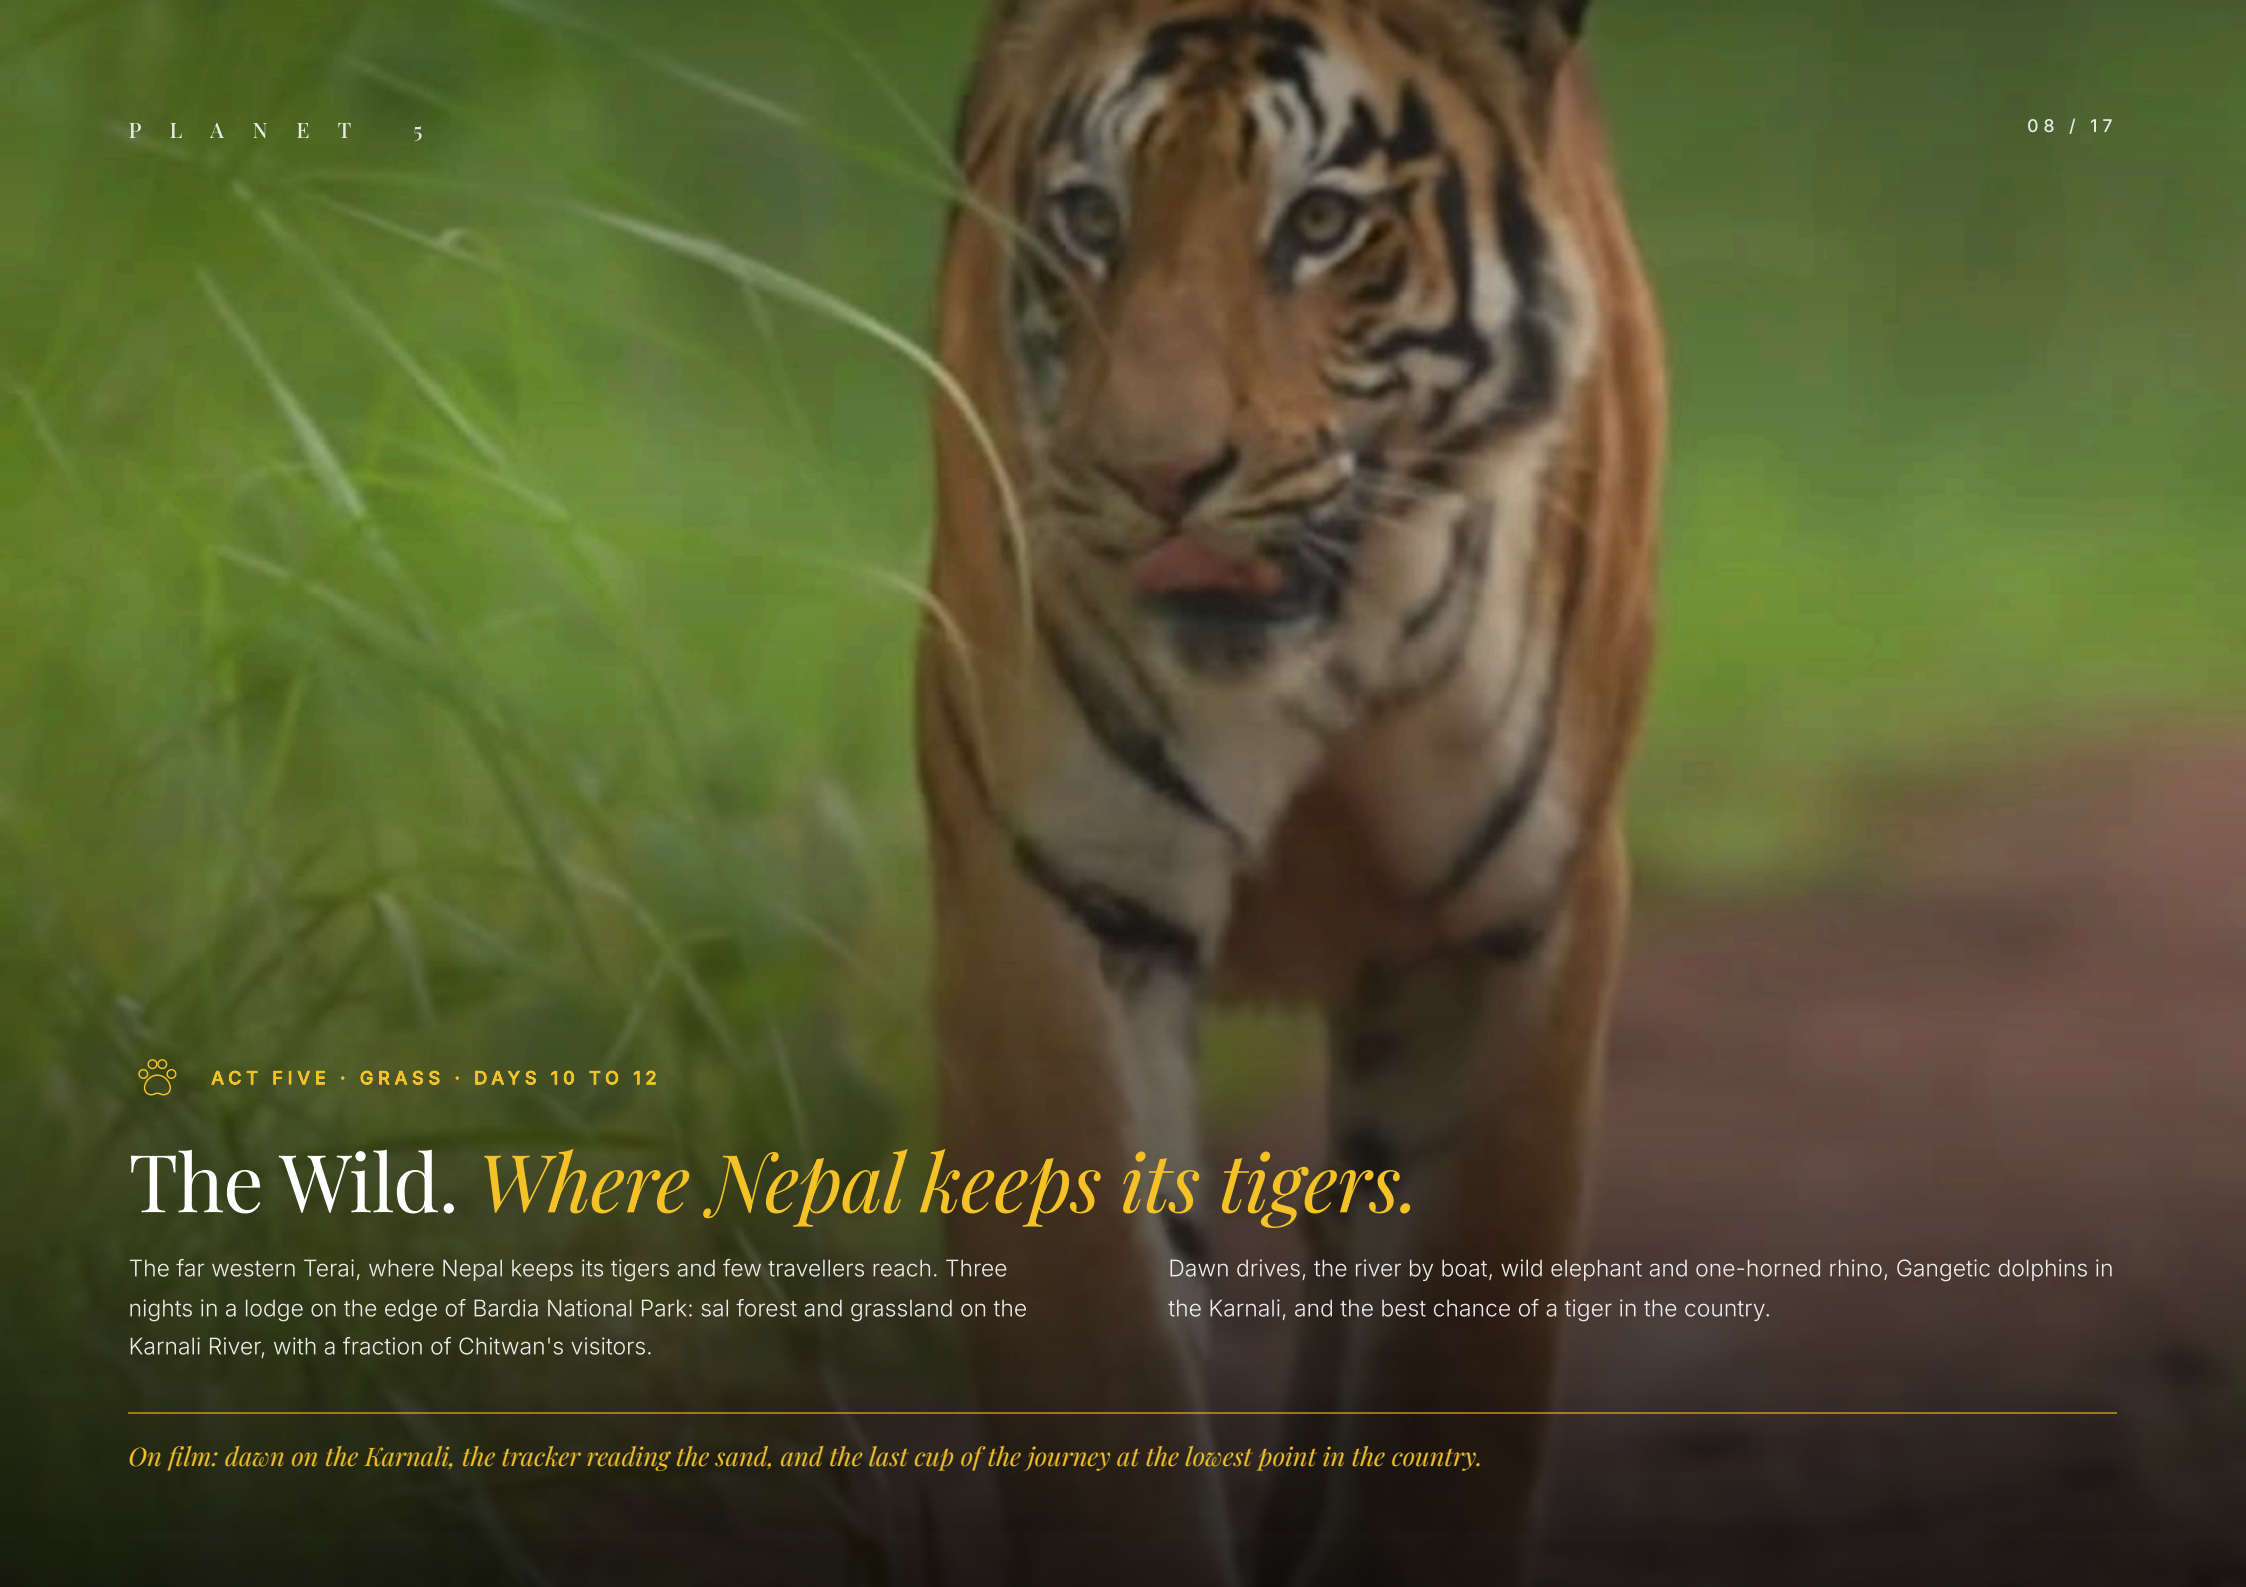

ACT FOUR · WATER · DAYS 8 AND 9

The Lake. Two nights below the Annapurnas.

A helicopter lifts off from the lakes of the Langtang and flies west past Manaslu and the Annapurnas to Pokhara. Two nights in a lodge above the lake.

The Annapurnas catch the sunrise, the water holds the reflection, and nothing is asked of you. The quiet after the walk, before the Terai.

On film: the range catching sunrise, the lake holding it, and a quiet cup on the terrace.

ACT FIVE · GRASS · DAYS 10 TO 12

The Wild. Where Nepal keeps its tigers.

The far western Terai, where Nepal keeps its tigers and few travellers reach. Three nights in a lodge on the edge of Bardia National Park: sal forest and grassland on the Karnali River, with a fraction of Chitwan's visitors.

Dawn drives, the river by boat, wild elephant and one-horned rhino, Gangetic dolphins in the Karnali, and the best chance of a tiger in the country.

On film: dawn on the Karnali, the tracker reading the sand, and the last cup of the journey at the lowest point in the country.

FIRST NIGHT · THE TERRACES

LAST NIGHT · DWARIKA'S

PROLOGUE AND EPILOGUE · KATHMANDU

The first night and the last.

You land in Kathmandu and a helicopter lifts you straight out of the city to The Terraces Resort and Spa, on the rim of the valley with the Himalaya on the horizon. A welcome dinner with your hosts, an early night, and the mountain waiting in the morning.

Back to Kathmandu for a farewell dinner and the last night at Dwarika's, the heritage hotel built from the carved windows and doors of old Newar houses. Morning departures on day 14.

The Terraces Resort and Spa on the rim of the valley, and Dwarika's, built from the carved windows of old Newar houses.

THE EXPEDITION

14 Days in Nepal. March 6 to 19, 2027.

DAY 1 · PROLOGUE

Kathmandu

Arrival, then by helicopter up to The Terraces Resort and Spa, high above the valley. Welcome dinner with your hosts and an early night.

DAY 2 · STONE

Everest, then the coffee farm

Dawn helicopter from The Terraces east along the Himalaya. The Everest overflight, then lunch at Hotel Everest View at 12,730 feet with Everest in the window.

DAY 3 · SOIL

Harvest at the Everest Coffee Farm

A full day in the harvest: picking cherry on the terraces with the farm team, the wet mill, the drying floor, and a visit to one of the Nepal Green Tara Foundation schools. Dinner cooked by Tashi, from the farm.

DAY 4 TO 5 TO 7 · BREATH

The Langtang

Helicopter from the Everest Coffee Farm into the lower Langtang. The walk begins among the lakes and forest, with the full mobile camp already set. Four days of walking and four nights camped between 6,000 and 10,000 feet.

DAY 8 TO 9 · WATER

Pokhara

Helicopter from the Langtang west past Manaslu and the Annapurnas to Pokhara. A lodge above the lake. Annapurna at sunrise. The lake, the valley, a day to rest after the walk.

DAYS 10 TO 12 · GRASS

Bardia

To the far western Terai. Three nights in a lodge on the edge of Bardia National Park. Tiger, wild elephant, rhino and river dolphin, with a fraction of Chitwan's visitors.

DAY 13 TO 14 · EPILOGUE

Kathmandu

Return to Kathmandu. Farewell dinner and the last night at Dwarika's. Morning departures from Kathmandu.

INCLUDED

- The Everest helicopter morning and lunch at Hotel Everest View
- All internal helicopter and air transfers
- All accommodation: the finest lodges on the route, and a full mobile camp in the Langtang
- All meals, trek support, guides, naturalists and permits
- Park fees and safari activities at Bardia
- Airport transfers
- Global Rescue emergency evacuation membership
- Professional photography and edited film footage featuring you, delivered after the expedition

NOT INCLUDED

- International airfare
- Trip cancellation insurance
- International medical insurance
- Nepal entry visa, USD 50
- Gratuities

Hosted throughout by Dirk Collins. Four days of walking with full support, a short morning at 12,730 feet, and the rest at lodge level.

WHO JOINS

Four kinds of travelers.

For people looking for something beyond the ordinary. Couples, friends, families and solo travelers are all welcome.

THE CURIOUS TRAVELER

You have been to the well-known places. You are ready for something that asks more of you than a credit card.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY ENTHUSIAST

Travel with a crew that has filmed Everest, Patagonia and the most remote landscapes on earth, and shoot alongside them.

THE PURPOSE-DRIVEN EXPLORER

You want your travel to connect to something meaningful. A portion of the proceeds goes to the Mountain Preservation Foundation.

THE ONCE-IN-A-LIFETIME SEEKER

Some experiences cannot be repeated. A film is shot once, and you are part of it.

The kind of journey that begins with an invitation, not a booking.

ON FILM

The experience and the story.

Beyond Everest is a documentary record, shot the way Dirk works: a small crew, early starts, and the people of each place in front of the lens. You travel with it for the whole journey.

THE EXPERIENCE

Embedded with the crew.

Two weeks alongside the film team, with the farmers, guides and families who have shaped these mountains. Not a spectator. A participant.

THE STORY

Helicopters along the Himalaya.

Everest at dawn, a coffee harvest before the world knows it, four days on foot and the tigers of the Terai. The story you tell is yours because you lived it.

WHAT YOU TAKE HOME

Photography and edited footage.

Professional photography and edited film footage featuring you, delivered after the expedition. Yours for personal use.

The places you dream about, with the access you could never find on your own.

HOW TO JOIN

Reserve your place.

$34,500

PER PERSON · DOUBLE OCCUPANCY · A SMALL HOSTED GROUP

A $10,000 deposit holds your place, fully refundable for 14 days. The balance of $24,500 is due February 4, 2027.

All internal helicopters, accommodation, meals, guides, permits, park fees, Global Rescue membership, and your photography and edited footage. International airfare not included.

Your own dates

A PRIVATE EXPEDITION

The same route, run privately for your party, on your dates and at your pace.

01 A conversation
Request a place. We reply personally within 24 hours.

02 Your place held
A $10,000 deposit, by card or wire, applied in full to the expedition.

03 Preparation
Your field team introduced by name, a medical form, evacuation-grade insurance, a fitness note and a gear list.

04 Welcomed in
Kathmandu, a welcome dinner with your hosts, and then the first morning.

THE TEAM

Your team in the field.

Dirk Collins

EXPEDITION HOST

Co-founder of Teton Gravity Research, with thirty years of film and expedition work in remote places for National Geographic, HBO, Disney and Rolex.

Tashi Tenzing

EVEREST COFFEE FARM, NUWAKOT

Grandson of Tenzing Norgay, three-time Everest summiteer, explorer and philanthropist. His friendship with the expedition is the reason the farm is open to you.

Ground operations

KATHMANDU

Three decades of Himalayan logistics for the largest expeditions in the country, from permits to porters to the camp waiting at the end of each day.

The pilots

HELICOPTERS

Pilots with decades flying Everest expeditions, at home along the whole length of the Himalaya.

"Dirk is always my first call for the world's most complex and remote expeditions."

JIMMY CHIN, ACADEMY AWARD-WINNING FILMMAKER

ON EXPEDITION FOR

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC · Disney · HBO · ROLEX · DAVID YURMAN · Apple · Red Bull · DJI · THE NORTH FACE · LAND ROVER · NBC · Discovery · AIRBUS · Ford · TOYOTA

THE TIMELINE

From invitation to expedition.

TODAY

Your place held

A $10,000 deposit, fully refundable for 14 days.

FEBRUARY 4, 2027

Preparation

Your field team introduced by name, a fitness note and a gear list. Balance due February 4, 2027.

MAR 6 TO 19, 2027

The expedition

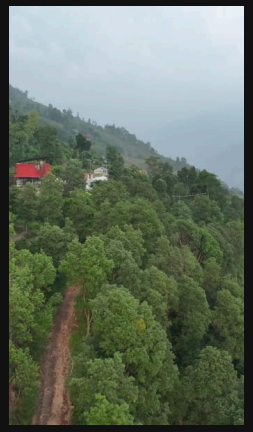

Fourteen days in Nepal with the crew.

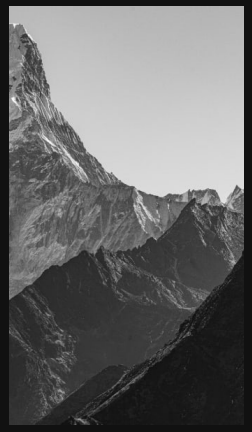

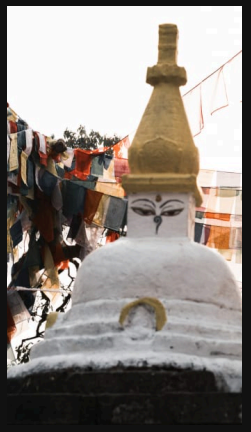

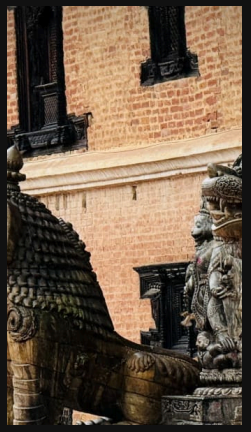

AFTER

Your story

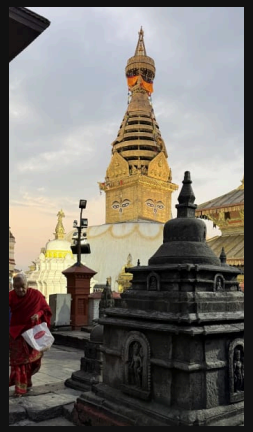

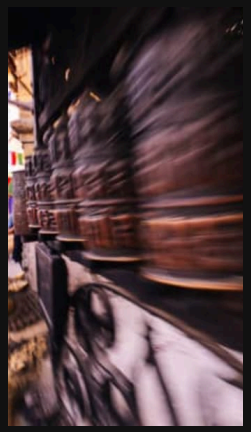

Photography and edited footage delivered. Yours to tell.

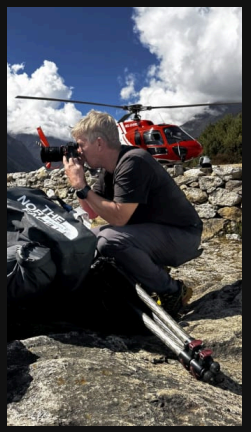

The window is brief. The story lasts.

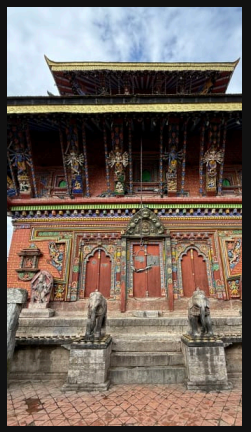

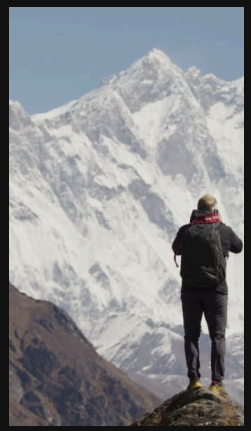

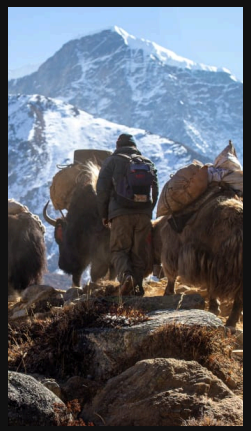

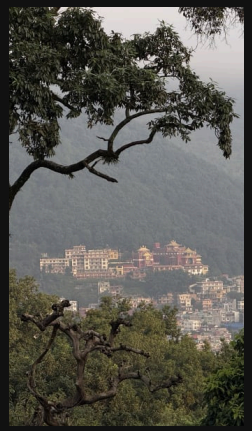

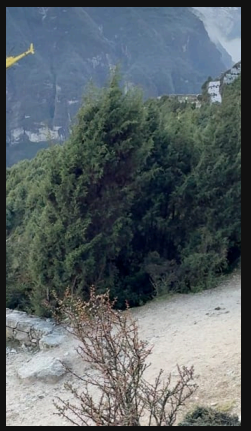

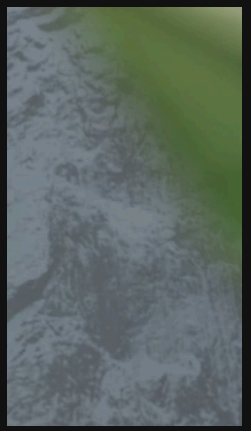

EVEREST
EVEREST

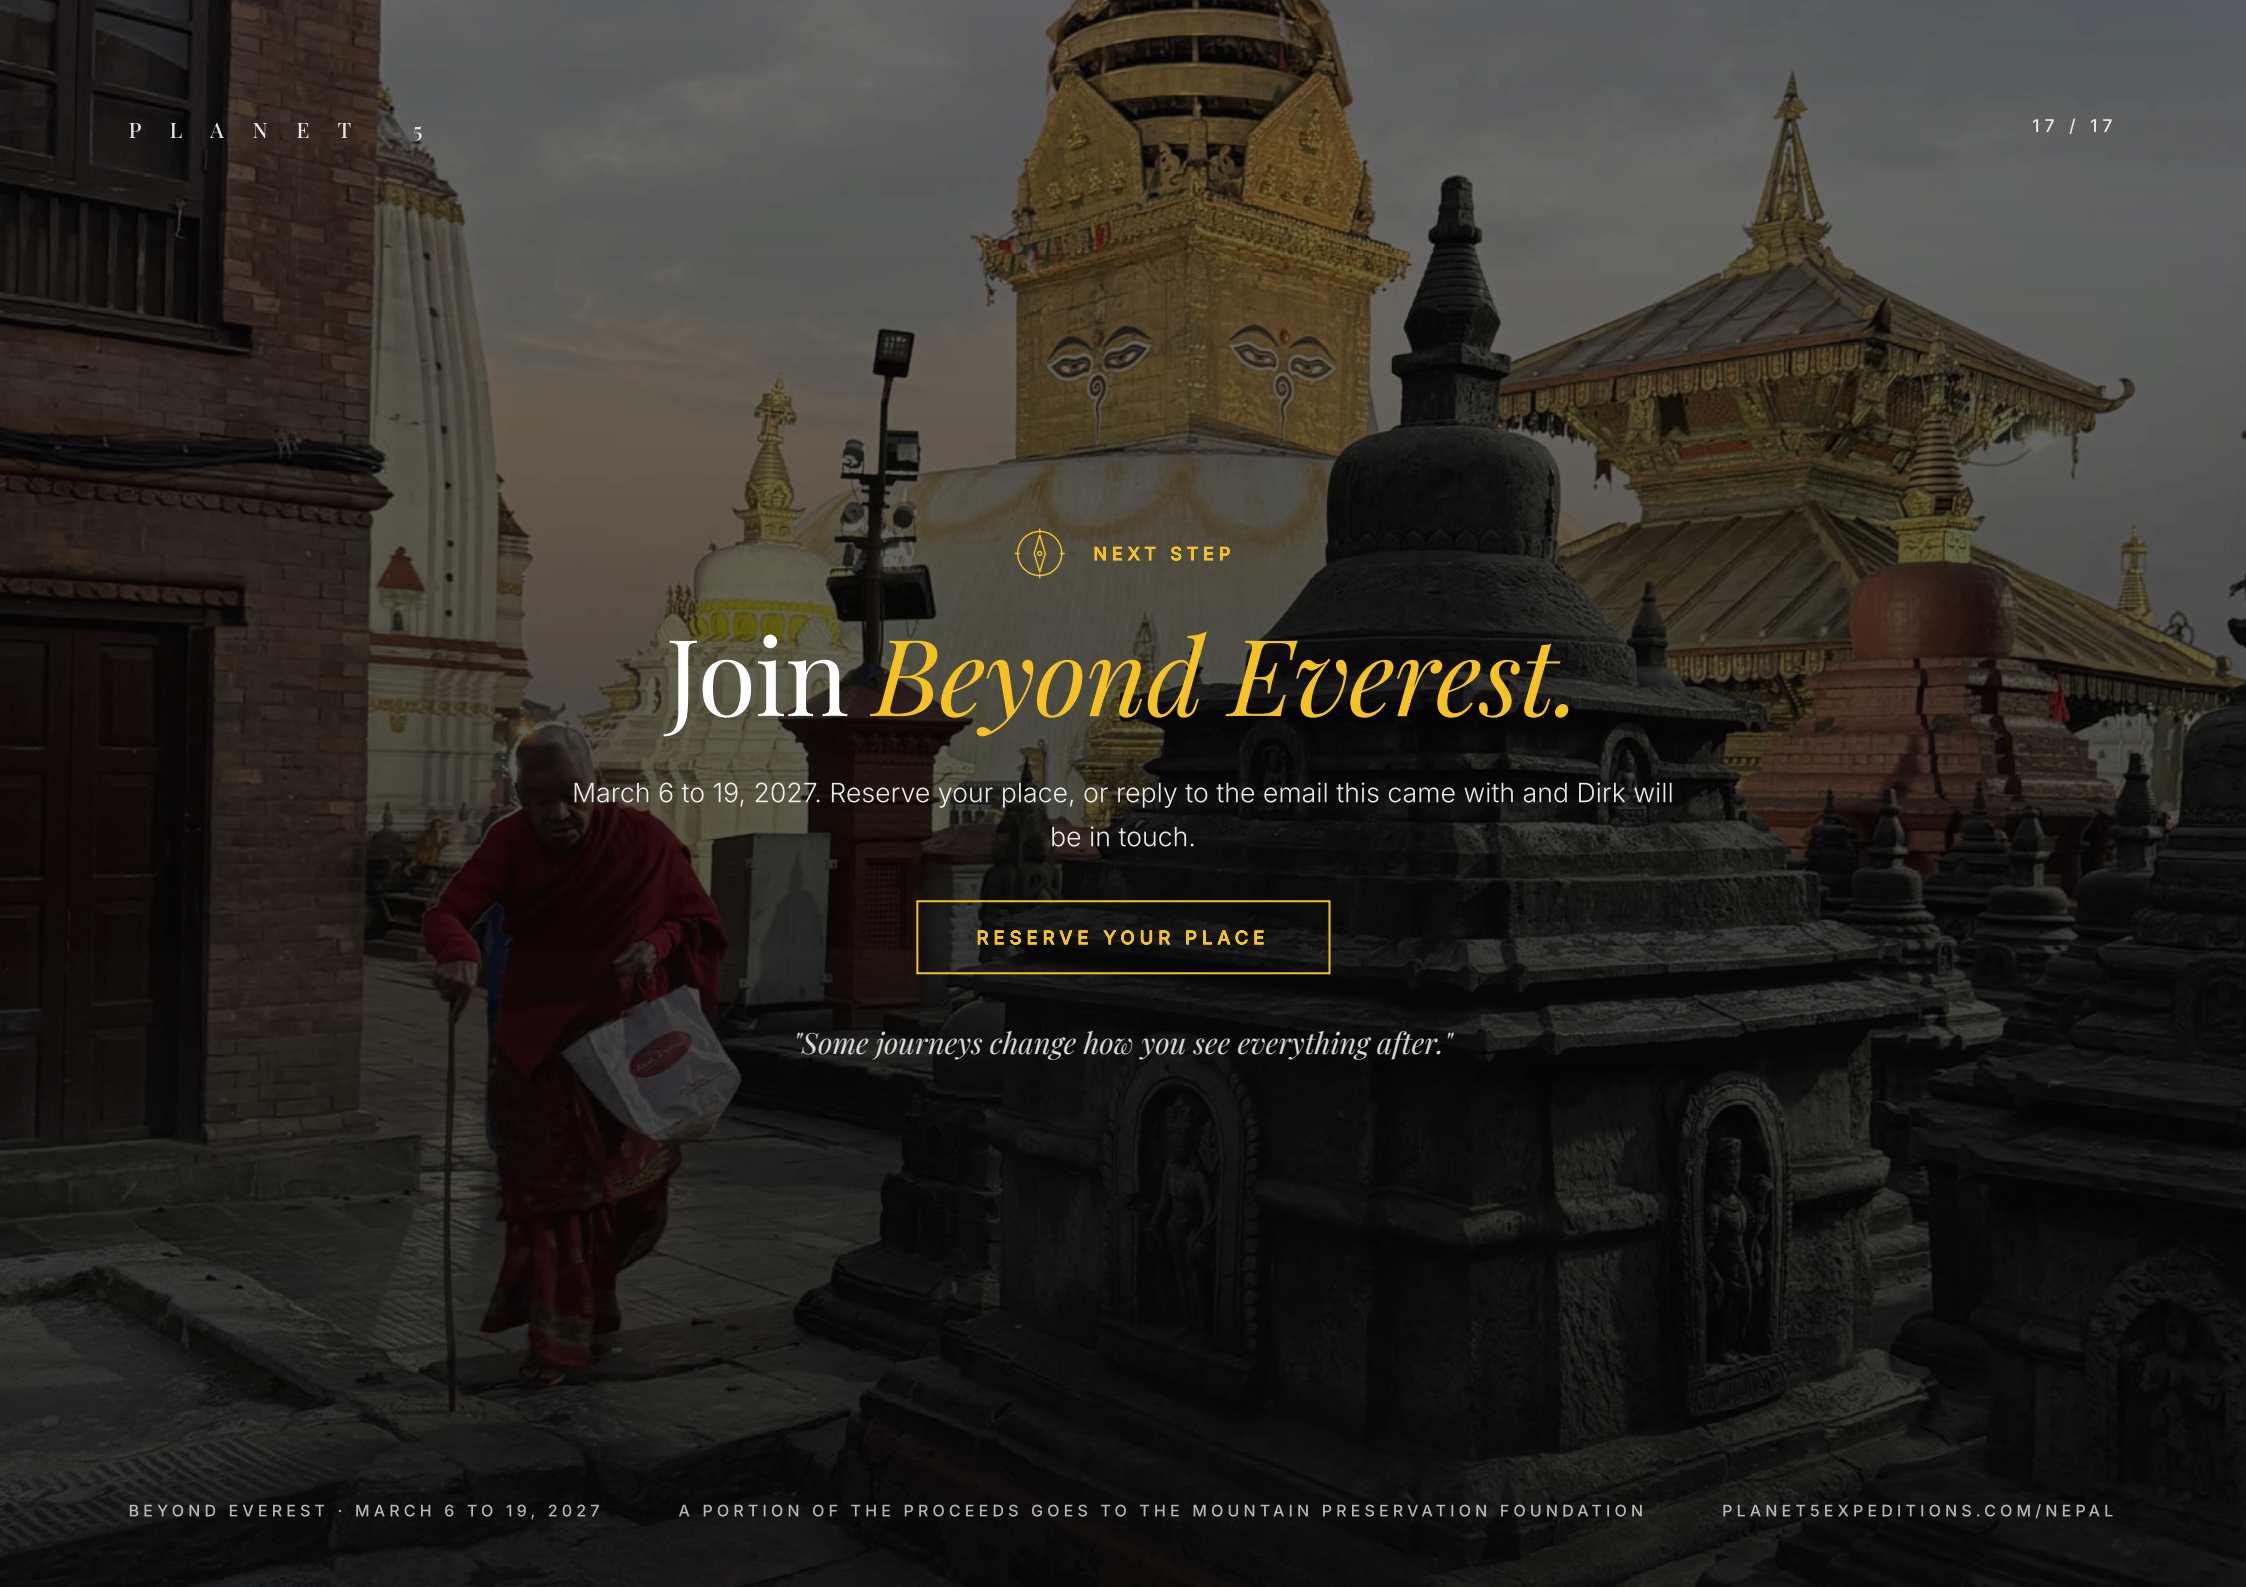

NEXT STEP

Join Beyond Everest.

March 6 to 19, 2027. Reserve your place, or reply to the email this came with and Dirk will be in touch.

RESERVE YOUR PLACE

"Some journeys change how you see everything after."